Cadiz, June 25. N. S.

THey continue to fit out here the Flota designed for New-Spain. The Falmouth and Adventure Men of War came in the 23d from Cruising, who met some days before with 3 Algerines of 16, 14, and 12 Guns. This morning arrived in this Port a Swedish Vessel in 13 days from Spithead; She came from thence in Company of two English Men of War and about 30 Merchant Ships, and left them the 22d off the Coast of Portugal going into Lisbon.

Genoua, July 1. The Galleys of Naples and those commanded by the Duke of Tursis, are arrived at Portolongone, and from thence are to proceed to Spain. The Master of a Vessel come lately from Marseilles, reports, that several Vessels sailed some days before his departure from thence, laden with Provisions for the subsistence of the French Army in Catalonia.

Madrid, July 4. We have Advice by Letters from Barcelona of the 27th past, that the Governor of that City being informed that the French were sending a Convoy of Provisions to Roses by Sea, to supply the French Forces who are in much need thereof, he ordered out several Galleys commanded by Don Pedro Monte Mayor, to intercept them, which they executed very successfully, having between Colibro and Roses met 25 Vessels, some of them laden with Provisions of Wheat and Flower, and others with Ammunition, and taken them all; but the French having deserted one of the Vessels, which had a great quantity of Powder on board, and left a Match lighted on purpose, she blew up after she was in the possession of the Spaniards, with the loss of 5 of their Men. Don Francisco de Velasco, the new Viceroy of Catalonia, went hence the first of this month for Barcelona, carrying with him 50000 Pistoles for the Pay of the Army; His departure was hastned by the Complaints that have been sent up to Court by the Nobility of that Province against the Marquis de Gastanaga, their late Governor. The Spanish Army continued by our last Advice in their Camp near Ostalrick; and the French Army at Tondera. Don Francisco Miquel de Pueyo is gone to his new Government of Cadiz; and Don Francisco de Castillo to that of Guipuscoa. They write from Gibraltar of the 23d past, that they had for several days heard great firing of Cannon and Mortars from Ceuta, but no Boats being lately come from thence, they had not received any Advice fresher than the Letters which made mention of the Sally the Spaniards made about the middle of the last month, in which they beat the Enemy from their first Intrenchments, and ruined their chief Works.

Coruuna, July 21. The Spanish-Expedition arrived here this afternoon in 5 days from Falmouth, and will sail again to morrow. The 15th Instant a French Privateer came to an Anchor off this place under English Colours, and fired a Gun without Shot, upon which two Dutch Vessels that were here, supposing her to be an English Frigat, went out to her, and were both taken. The Letters from Madrid of the 11th Instant say, Sir William Godolphin died there the same day.

Venice, July 7. The Duke de Moles, Ambassador from Spain, had on Wednesday last a solemn Audience of the Senate, to notifie the Death of the Queen Mother of Spain. The Convoy for the Levant lies ready to sail with the first fair Wind; We are in daily expectation to hear from thence that our Fleet is gone to Sea, and has made some Attempt upon the Enemy. There are Letters from Smirna which say, the Ottoman Fleet was come to Scio, composed of about 30 Men of War, including those of Barbary, and 20 Galleys, but they were ill Manned, and it was generally believed they would avoid coming to an Engagement with the Venetians. The last Letters from Napoli di Romania say, that the Captain General had posted about 7000 Men near the Isthmus of Corinth, to secure that Pass, though there is little reason to apprehend the Enemies designing to force it, considering the small number of Men they have been able to draw together at Thebes, where is the Rendezvous of their Army; For when these Letters were written they were not above 8 or 9000 strong. Signior Soranzo and Signior Venier, late Ambassadors from this State in England, are expected back about the 20th of this month, and the first of them is named for the Embassy to Rome.

Vienna, July 11. Several Couriers have of late passed between this Court and that of Poland, about the Business of the approaching Election; There hitherto appears little or no opposition against Prince James, Eldest Son to the last King, who Married some years ago with the Princess Palatin of Neubourg, Sister to the Empress, so that 'tis generally believed he will be chosen. The last Letters from Hungary give an account, that the Elector of Saxony and several of the Imperial General Officers had been with a Body of Horse to view Temeswar, though there seems to be no intention of besieging it at this time, it being thought advisable not to weaken the Army by such an Enterprise, but to keep themselves in a posture to meet and fight the Grand Signior, who is on his march towards the Danube. The Count de Harrach will set out in few days for the Court of Spain, in Quality of the Emperor's Envoy Extraordinary, to Condole the Death of the Queen Mother.

Francfort, July 18. The Confederate Army, commanded by Prince Lewis of Baden lies now encamped near the Rhine, their Head Quarter being at Zelzeren; The French have posted themselves on the other side, to hinder their passing the River;
